How do I register to vote in Kansas?

There has been a great deal of confusion about voter registration in Kansas. You can register in three ways. Regardless of the method, you will be able to vote in all elections. The three ways are:

- ✔ Using the federal voter registration form, available online at: www.ksvotes.org or www.eac.gov/voter_resources/register_to_vote.aspx. You will need to mail the form in to the address listed on the form. Citizens using the federal voter registration form do not need to submit a birth certificate, passport, or similar “proof of citizenship” document.
- ✔ At the motor vehicle office, while applying for a new driver’s license or renewing an existing driver’s license. Citizens registering at the motor vehicle office do not need to submit a birth certificate, passport, or similar “proof of citizenship” document.
- ✔ Using the state voter registration form, which can be filled out online or in person at your local election authority. As of June 2018, citizens using the state form do not need to submit a birth certificate, passport, or similar “proof of citizenship” document in order to complete the registration process.

What if I’ve moved?

You must update your voter registration every time you move. You can do this online at www.ksvotes.org or by contacting your county election authority.

How do I know that I am registered?

You will receive a notice in the mail confirming your registration. You may also contact your local election authority to confirm your registration.

Can I vote before Election Day?

Yes! Any registered voter can vote in advance of the election. You have two options:

- ✔ Request an absentee ballot and vote in advance by mail. Absentee ballots may be requested from your local election authority. After your request is submitted, you will receive an absentee ballot by mail. Submit your completed ballot to your local election office by Election Day.

If you're at the right polling place, but your name isn't on the voter list, ask for a provisional ballot. If you're at the wrong polling place, ask for help to find the right one. If someone tries to harass or intimidate you, tell a poll-worker right away. If you're unable to resolve the problem by speaking with a poll-workers, call the Election Protection hotline at 1-866-OUR-VOTE.
